Tethys Technology, Inc. is pleased to announce a new hire, Andrew Clark has joined the firm!

NEW YORK –January 4, 2021– Tethys Technology, an industry leader in financial software development and algorithmic trading software for Broker-Dealers and Institutional Investors is pleased to announce that, Andrew Clark has joined the Tethys Team. Andrew will be managing Canadian Sales and Business Development for the firm and will be based in Toronto. Tethys has been active in Canada since 2004 and has an extensive offering in North American Equities, Options and Futures algorithms. Tethys has been expanding its presence in the Canadian market over the last several years and launched Canadian exchange/venue proximity hosting in 2020.

Andrew is a Canadian capital markets veteran with deep experience in equities electronic trading platforms, integrations, and operations. Most recently Andrew was Director, Electronic Trading, at BMO Capital Markets with accountability for Canadian equity sales and marketing strategies. He previously worked at Scotia Bank for 9 years; and was a founding member of the electronic trading group which was formed in 2007, which acquired E-Trade Canada.

Nitin Gambhir, CEO and President of Tethys Technology, states “We are pleased that Andrew will be joining the Tethys Team. His extensive experience in Canadian equity markets, electronic trading and execution Algorithms will make him a great addition to the firm. Andrew will be marketing North American products to Canadian clients, as well as our extensive global trading capabilities to firms looking for seamless algorithmic trade execution products across other global regions.”

Tethys is committed to offering continuous innovation to our products through research, customer feedback and execution quality. We have seen growth in our business this year across all our major product classes including the equity, options and futures markets. “Although the past year will perhaps not be remembered fondly by many, we have worked hard to value our employees, partners and customers; and strive to commit to innovation for our clients,” said Nitin Gambhir.
