Tethys Technology wins award for “Best Trading Platform” from Fund Intelligence Operations and Service Awards 2021

NEW YORK – March 2, 2021 – Tethys Technology, an industry leader in financial software, is pleased to announce that its TethysEMS product won the award for “Best Trading Platform” at the Fund Intelligence Service and Operations 2021 Awards. The award was announced at this year’s Virtual International Awards Ceremony on February 24, 2021. Tethys was also shortlisted in two additional categories this year: Best EMS/OMS Provider and Best Options Trading Platform. For over 20 years, Fund Intelligence Tech and WSL Awards have highlighted top achieving firms for US fund management, trading and front office technology. Winners are determined by a panel of independent judges.

Tethys’ award-winning solution, TethysEMS is a low latency quant EMS which includes the firm’s global multi-asset algorithmic trading suite; TethysAlgo. TethysEMS enjoyed significant growth in 2020, particularly in the derivatives sector. Tethys’ global coverage and diverse strategy facilitation features are unique in the marketplace and are complemented by its exceptional, actionable TCA product; TethysTCA. Tethys products support trading of global equities, futures, FX and options. The algorithmic models behind TethysAlgo have adapted seamlessly to the new volatility regime and have been extended to include additional capabilities. Tethys has also seen a surge in demand for its global broker-neutral algorithmic products, including single order algorithms, pairs and program trading.

“Winning this award and being nominated in three categories speaks to the strength of Tethys’ execution capabilities across all products and regions,” said Nitin Gambhir, Tethys CEO & President. “2020 was a unique year with historically unparalleled economic stimulus due to the pandemic, increased market volatility and evolving market microstructure. Tethys is committed to offering continuous product innovation through research, customer feedback and execution quality. We have seen our business expand this year across all our major product classes including equities, options, F/X and futures.”
