Tethys Wins the “Best Buy-Side Algorithmic/DMA Product” Award
at the 2021 Waters Technology Buy-Side Technology Awards

NEW YORK – November 9, 2021 – Tethys Technology, Inc., an industry leader in algorithmic trading software development, announced today that its TethysAlgo & TethysEMS products won the 2021 award for “Best Buy-Side Algorithmic/DMA Product” from Waters Technology at the 15th Annual Buy-Side Technology Awards. The winners were announced virtually in London on November 4, 2021. For more information about the win, click here.

“Each year we receive a number of outstanding entries to the Best Buy-Side Algorithmic/DMA Product or Service category, but this year Tethys Technology’s TethysAlgo suite really stood out,” said Victor Anderson, Global Content Director of Waters Technology. “The ability to customize behavior at any level, and by any category, is one of Tethys’ many distinguishing features.”

Nitin Gambhir, CEO of Tethys Technology, commented, “We are pleased to have been recognized for this award two years in a row”. We strive to stay at the leading edge of algorithmic trading technology and analytics available to our clients through our commitment to innovation and research. We serve as broker neutral execution consultants to our clients, offering out of box and bespoke algorithms in addition to “Actionable TCA”, which leverages ML/AI techniques to evaluate slippage and improve execution cost. Our clients are able to focus on alpha generation and use our tools and services to maximize alpha capture.
